I believe there are fewer callings more compelling than public service. After graduating from college, I worked as a television news producer for KITV and KHON for ten years. I joined the Hawaii National Guard in 1989 to hone leadership skills and make further contributions to our state and nation. For nearly thirteen years, I have been the spokesperson for State of Hawaii, Department of Defense. During this time, I have proudly served three separate administrations and have had many opportunities to work with legislators and their staffs at the State Capitol and other state, county and federal agencies. In 1999 and 2000, I was recognized nationally for outstanding achievement in the fields of community relations and environmental public affairs. In 2002, I received the Governor's award, "State of Hawaii Manager of the Year", for successfully directing Homeland Security strategic communications for Hawaii after 9-11. In order to help win hearts and minds in the Global War On Terrorism, I volunteered for active duty combat deployments to Saudi Arabia in 2002 and Iraq in 2004.

As a public servant, I believe in three qualities: honesty, integrity and hard work. Due to my broad range of experience and passion for community service, I believe I am the best candidate for Senate District 19. If elected, I will address many quality of life issues such as traffic, education, health care, crime/drug abuse, environmental protection and economic development. I humbly ask for the chance to serve the people of Senate District 19. Mahalo.
